THE AGE OF DELUSION

AND THE TWO PARTY CHARADE

By: David Brownlow

It is hard to believe we will soon be suffering, once again, through the indignity of another congressional election. We should be used to this swindle by now, as the same thing happens every two years. It is the old "right is good, left is bad" version of the classic good cop/bad cop scam. And the American breed of lapdog known as "the conservative" falls for it every time.

These are the steps used to create the illusion that we have real elections between two real political parties:

1. In the months leading up to an election, Republicans start to rail against the Democrats for being a pack of wild, big-spending socialists who are driving us into bankruptcy. While that is certainly true, the Republicans say this while they continue to blow money in massive chunks – cranking up federal spending by over 70% and burning through three trillion dollars in new debt since they took control of Congress in 1994!
2. Republicans promise to "fix" the schools, "save" Social Security, and "win" the war on terror. They promise this while the schools continue to brainwash our kids with paganism, while the Social Security "Trust Fund" is a total fraud that is trillions in debt, and while we are at a higher risk of terror attacks now than we were before the "war" on terror started. All of which is occurring while the Republicans have been in charge!

3. Republicans talk of liberty and the spread of democracy throughout the world. This is while over half a million American troops are stationed in 140 of the world's 193 countries, and our dictator-in-chief has no apparent limit on his power as he fights the "war on terror." Republicans talk of freedom, while we ruthlessly crush any opposition to our "liberation" of Iraq - killing tens of thousands of Iraqi civilians in the process!
4. They pull the homosexual boogiemer out of the closet and tell us we need to elect Republicans or else the homosexuals will take over the country - while they appoint homosexuals to high government positions and allow the federal courts to run roughshod over state sodomy laws.
5. Then, just weeks before the election, it really starts to get fun. The propaganda machine is shifted into high gear in order to persuade some of the most gullible people on the planet - pro-life Americans - that the way to end the abortion holocaust is through blind loyalty to the Republican Party. They are able to pull it off time after time, and probably will again in 2006, in spite of the fact that U.S. government sponsored abortionists have murdered 14,000,000 American children during the eleven years Republicans have controlled congress – while they sat back and did absolutely nothing to stop it.

After the euphoria of an election "victory" winds down, usually within a couple of days, the masses go back to sleep. And for the next two years, they ignore the fact that we are hurtling at full throttle towards a moral and fiscal train wreck – while the Republicans have been at the wheel!

Then, right before the next election, "conservatives" stumble out of their stupor just long enough to fall for the "moral values" sob story once again. And the cycle repeats itself. We re-elect the same reprobates and criminals who orchestrated the total collapse of this nation's moral values - in some naive hope they will start to improve the moral condition of our nation if we will give them just one more chance...

Which is the very definition of insanity!

Over 99% of Americans who participated in the 2004 electoral scam cast their vote for either half of the Bush/Kerry ticket.

They did this while passionately believing their vote was actually going to make a difference. What they refused to admit was that the two jokers on the ticket were so close on every issue - from their love of big government, to their support of income transfer schemes, to their warmongering ways - it was nearly impossible to tell one from the other. We were in for a royal screwing no matter which of them won!

You have to admit, the strategy is absolutely brilliant. Forget about electronic voting machine conspiracies, hanging chads or other election irregularities – which are only diversions to keep us from figuring out that the whole thing is an illusion! Those seeking to enslave us have built an elaborate one-party, criminal syndicate, where it does not make the slightest bit of difference whether we elect Republicans or Democrats. Because no matter which "side" wins, the results are always the same - more spending, more debt, more wars, more dead babies, and less freedom. They never lose!

The left/right charade is an important tool used by our captors to keep Americans pinned down in endless battles that neither "side" is ever going to win. This is arranged so that the masses have the belief that all their passion and efforts will make a difference. So we expend all our resources fighting over the symptoms of our disease, be it welfare or warfare, while the real cancer – that a band of bloodthirsty criminals has overthrown our government – remains untreated as it destroys what little is left of our Republic.

To make this an even more perfect form of betrayal, the wardens who rule this American gulag have the oblivious masses standing in line, begging them for permission to tie the knot of their noose! I often have to take a step back and marvel at it all, and just tip my hat and say...Man! Those guys are good!

Do you ever find yourself wondering, "Why didn't I just take the 'blue pill'?" It would certainly be easier to live in the delusion that; our government is there to protect us, our men are dying in Iraq fighting for our freedom, my 401k and Social Security will be there for me when I retire, and George Bush is a good Christian man.

Save the Children.
