

The US occupation in Iraq has left American soldiers unprepared and vulnerable, the country degenerating into chaos, and the Iraqi people embittered and hostile. Now, the President is asking Congress for a staggering $87 billion blank check to fund more of the same. Until he takes strong steps to correct this failure, I don't think Congress should give him a cent.

President Bush needs to fire the team responsible, starting with Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld, and transfer authority to the United Nations.

Please join me in telling Congress to hold on to our money until President Bush changes his team and changes his course in Iraq. You can send an email to your Member of Congress and sign the MoveOn.org petition at:
